Board-certified by the American Board of Surgery
American Society of Metabolic and Bariatric Surgery

Dr. Thomas was one of the first surgeons in Houston to receive the coveted Center of Excellence designation. This award is given to surgeons with documented quality and care and low complication rates.

Dr. Thomas offers you in-depth experience with three of the safest, most reliable weight-loss surgeries. He works closely with each patient to determine the surgical option that best meets their personal need, and helps them receive the support they need following surgery, including support groups and counseling.

As a board-certified surgeon with years of experience, Dr. Thomas has the credentials you can trust. But he also offers something you might not expect from a surgeon: a commitment to giving you the time, one-on-one attention, personal concern and understanding you deserve.
